Henrik Nygren Design

Henrik Nygren Design mainly deals with analyzing the client's market potential, with strategy in accordance with this potential and the design and production of books, magazines, packaging, identities, advertising campaigns, exhibitions, films etc.

When necessary, and depending on the nature of the assignment, the company enlists a carefully selected group of brand strategists, copywriters, printers, etc.

Clients turn to us to obtain the greatest possible quality from given circumstances. When possible, we meet all expectations. Every now and then, we surpass them.
